

Academic Council

The Academic Council of the Cyprus International Institute of Management is an international body composed of notable academics, including former and current Deans of some of the world's leading universities and business schools. It acts as an independent, self-renewed body "representing" the international academic community that co-founded the Institute. The Academic Council's primary role is to oversee CIIM's educational programmes with regards to academic standards, quality control and the academic development of the School. It assesses, through annual meetings and periodic review undertaken by the External Examiner, (who can be a Council member or an ad hoc appointee), the curriculum, content, delivery, assessment and overall quality of CIIM programs and recommends revisions and upgrades to these programs based on international developments.
